Friends, have you seen Curtis Bower's movie, The Agenda? It is buzzing in the grassroots.

Peter List did a great Red State post on it: <http://www.redstate.com/2013/02/28/agenda-how-marxists-are-grinding-america-down/>

Here is my video interview of him after election day:

Ginni,

Let me know what you all plan and I will help out in whatever way you think would be most beneficial. I truly appreciate your efforts. I have been to hundreds of showings of AGENDA all over the country and have seen up close the impact it has on people that don't understand the enemy. It definitely motivates them to action and we are so thankful for that. AGENDA has spread through the grassroots efforts of many, but there are still millions of Americans that need to see it. I pray your efforts will give it the energy it needs to wake "the sleeping giant."

God bless,
Curtis

Sorry. Re-reading the initial emails, I missed the sentence referencing 'national.'

Since 'something' is on their radar screen, I'll wait until going back to the bloggers until there is something more concrete. As/if it shapes up to be national, all the better as more will be able to jump on board.

Nope; you are getting ahead of Rosies at least.

We will not do anything just in WI; you may have misunderstood.

All:

I put the note below out to a couple of the bigger blogger groups.

I don't know how many of them will respond and I think, based on our emails yesterday, my note is accurate (if I got the gist of the goal correct).

If we can pull something together in Wisconsin and want exposure (free advertising), I know we can get RedState and Breitbart coverage, as well as (I think) Smart Girl Politics since a number of them are on the lists.

The task now is to organize it.

Folks, I did the post below as a quasi-review of the 2010 movie 'Agenda: Grinding America Down.'

Many of you have probably already seen it and I am linking my post here for a reason: Although the movie is a couple of years old, many on our side are demoralized and do not know what to do. We need to get re-energized, reorganized, and mobilize again but many don't know how.

After posting this, I was contacted by some folks who want to try to do a widespread 'gathering' around the state of Wisconsin to get people to view the movie. This is not being done through any specific legacy group, but through local WI activists.

This may take place in the next month or so. My emphasis to them is to maximize attendance (through gift-card contests) but, most importantly, give the attendees tasks before leaving (i.e., recruitment and mobilizing in their communities). Then, do follow up meetings with specific goals.

I don't know if organizing these types of events will take place in other states, however, if a 'movie night' in Wisconsin is successful, perhaps places that are high on the Dems' radar (NC, OH, TX & VA, etc.) could be next(?).

As the Wisconsin thing begins to take shape and they have a definitive date, I'd like to ask if some of you would be willing to help promote it through your respective outlets.

Please let me know if you're able to help.

Thank you.
